EVIDENCE GIVEN BY STOTESBURY

Witness in Government's Suit to Dissolve United States Steel Corporation.

New York, March 11.—E. T. Stotesbury, head of the banking firm of Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia, and a partner of J. P. Morgan, was called as a witness to-day in the government's suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation as an illegal combination. Mr. Stotesbury was asked to testify as to what relations his firm had with independent steel concerns. The government contends that the corporation wields an influence over independent concerns through interlocking directorates and a community of interest in connection with their banking affiliations.

Mr. Stotesbury was a director of the Carnegie and Pennsylvania Steel Companies, he said. In July, 1901, shortly after the corporation was organized, his firm owned 1,366 shares of Pennsylvania Steel Company stock and 32,480 shares of Carnegie stock, he explained, but none at the time the present suit was filed. He asserted that the holdings were acquired by his concern as "brokers and bankers"; that the Carnegie stock was turned over to the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Pennsylvania steel stock held for "another customer." Drexel & Co. held stock of the two companies for J. P. Morgan & Co., but only in small amounts, he said, and had no stock at all in the Lackawanna Steel Company.

James Gayley, former vice-president of the corporation, who has been on the stand for a week, completed his testimony to-day. The hearing will be continued on Friday.

Makes Your Hair Soft and Fluffy

"Most shampoo mixtures," says Mrs. Mae Martin, in the Los Angeles Star, "rob the scalp of all oily secretion, leaving it dry and harsh, and the hair greasy and brittle, and it is difficult to manage. This causes dandruff, falling hair and premature greyness, aging a woman ten years."

"A reliable shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. Pour this on the scalp and rub well, then rinse carefully, and you will find it leaves the hair soft and glossy and puts the scalp in a healthy condition."

"Shampooing with this mixture is a delight, and costs but a trifle, but you should be careful to get an original package of canthrox."—Advertisement.

SEEKS TO HAVE NEWSPAPER LAW

New York Publication Asks Injunction Against Postmaster-General.

TEST BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Wants Penalties Withheld Until Validity of Act Is Determined.

Washington, March 11.—Counsel for the New York Journal of Commerce to-day applied to the Supreme Court to restrain Postmaster-General Burleson from immediately enforcing the "newspaper publicity law." Former Postmaster-General Hitchcock had agreed not to attempt to enforce the law pending a prompt appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Federal courts in New York.

The request was based upon an agreement between counsel, the Department of Justice and the Post-Office Department last October that no action would be taken by the Post-Office Department to compel newspaper publishers to comply with the law or enforce any of its penalties until the Supreme Court had passed upon its validity.

Robert C. Morris, counsel for the Journal of Commerce, in a statement to the Supreme Court, declared that on March 4 the postmaster of New York had notified the paper that unless the statements required by the law were filed at once he would proceed to enforce its penalties. Similar letters, the attorney charged, had been sent to other newspapers throughout the country. Since March 4, Morris declared, Postmaster-General Burleson had informed him formally that unless the required returns were made on or before March 11 he would enforce the penalties which include disbarment from the mails.

The law requires newspapers to file with the government and publish twice each year a sworn statement showing the names of their stockholders, security holders, stockholders, amount of daily circulation, and to designate all paid-for articles as "advertisements."

The Supreme Court has held the validity of the law under consideration for several months, but has announced no decision.

The court took the motion of Mr. Morris under advisement. Solicitor-General Bullitt stated verbally that the government took cognizance of the motion, but did not agree to all the statements set forth as facts in the printed statement Mr. Morris filed with the court.

PRONOUNCED SANE

Secro Held in Barody Case Said by Commission to Be of Sound Mind.

Isaac Howard, colored, who was arrested some time ago by Policemen Taylor and Sims as a suspicious character, believed to have been guilty of the murder of Eliza Barody, the North Second Street confectioner, and who was thought to be mentally unbalanced, was adjudged sane yesterday by a lunacy commission which examined him at the City Jail. His case will be called this morning in Police Court.

While the police do not believe that Howard is guilty of the crime, it is said that he is a very important witness, and through him it is hoped to be learned who killed the confectioner. Howard, whose talk has been wild and at times almost unintelligible, has said that he had been outside of Barody's store while George Cook, also colored, now in jail, went inside and committed the murder.

Barody was found unconscious by Patrolman Howell, who saw blood flowing under the door. It was found that he had been viciously assaulted with a hatchet. He was removed to a hospital, but never regained consciousness. So far the police have been baffled in every effort to clear up the mystery and find the murderer, or murderers, it being the general belief that the crime was committed by more than one person.

WILSON OUTLINES POLICY TOWARD SISTER REPUBLICS

ments in Honduras, looking to double revolutions, first in Honduras and later in Nicaragua. Costa Rica appeared to be the only peaceful spot on the Central American map.

The general tenor of the official reports was to the effect that the threatened disorders had no foundation in abuses of power on the part of the existing governments of the republics but were based almost entirely upon the personal ambitions of various would-be leaders and soldiers of fortune, who designed to overturn the established governments and maintain themselves in power by force of arms and without reference to the will of the majority of the people.

Conditions became so acute just before the close of the Taft administration as to cause the dispatch of the big armored cruiser Colorado first and later the gunboat Denver down the west coast, as far as Acapulco, in Salvador.

The Wilson administration now is considering whether there shall be any change in the plans for the spring practice of the Atlantic fleet due to sail from Guantanamo, Cuba, next Monday for Hampton Roads. It had been suggested that the ships should be kept at Guantanamo until conditions in Central America are more settled. It is possible the four battleships now at Vera Cruz and Tampico will remain for the present while the rest of the fleet proceeds northward.
